

Name: _____ Section: _____

Making Connections

For people to really understand new material or concepts it is important for them to make connections or see how it relates to their life. Sometimes this occurs prior to learning, during, or after, but the most important thing is that connections are made at some point. For this assignment you should consider the topic that we have been discussing and you should list as many connections (with explanations) as possible between the topic and things you experience in "real life."

TOPIC - _____